Journal of Disaster Research flow for publication

Editing schedule of Journal of Disaster Research is as follows:

1. Receipt of manuscripts	We receive submitted papers. When we receive a paper we mail to you. *Page charges are required for publication.
2. Nomination of reviewers	We assign two reviewers to each paper. *In JDR, period for reviewing is 2 weeks.
3. Review request	We request the review of the paper to selected reviewers.

2 weeks

10 days

4. Notification of review results	We notify authors of review results. If A -acceptance- go to step 6. If B -Conditional acceptance- or C -Revise and Resubmit- request authors to revise manuscripts based on reviewers' comments. We will send an accept letter to author if the paper is accept.

2 weeks   1 weeks

5. Resubmission and Rereview request	We receive revised manuscripts and make rereview requests. Upon receiving rereview results, it goes to step 4. *Rereview should be done once so as not to prolong the review step. Period for rereviewing is 1 week.
6. Receipt and checking of final manuscripts	We ask authors to submit final manuscripts with an accept letter and necessary documents. We will check them.
Proofreading by native English speaker	It takes a week. Authors check the result of proofreading and revise manuscript.
Lay out	It takes a week. We lay out the manuscript by LaTeX.
Proofreading of galleys by authors	We send a galley (PDF file) of the manuscript to author by mail.
Corrections
Second and third proofreading by authors	We make an final version of manuscript for printing.
Printing and Publishing	It takes 2 weeks for printing. We will send a copy of journal and reprints with invoice.