CALL FOR PAPERS

AIMS & SCOPE

This journal focuses on advanced computational intelligence, including the synergetic integration of neural networks, fuzzy logic and evolutionary computation, so that more intelligent systems can be built for industrial applications. This new field is called the computational intelligence or soft computing which has already been studied by many researchers, but no single integration journal exists in the world. This new journal gives readers the state of art of the theory and its applications of the Advanced Computational Intelligence & Intelligent Informatics. The topics include, but are not limited to: Fuzzy Logic, Neural Networks, GA and Evolutionary Computation, Hybrid Systems, Adaptation and Learning Systems, Distributed Intelligent Systems, Network Systems, multi-media, Human Interface, Biologically Inspired Evolutionary Systems, Artificial Life, Chaos, Fractal, Wavelet Analysis, Scientific Applications and Industrial Applications.
